

Each year for the past 15 years, I have attended 5-10 graduation ceremonies. Sure, some of these are for friends and families, but most are as a representative of our community in recognition of this important right of passage. Graduations serve as a powerful connection between generations, symbolically passing the torch to the next and inspiring both young and old, alike. One speaker I heard this year reminded me that our paths in life are seldom a straight line and it is those zigzags in life that make us stop and think, recalibrate, and help us try to reach our potential.

As I celebrate my first Father's Day as a new grandfather I think of the circle of life, the varied experiences of our family and of the many life stories yet to come. I had forgotten the intensity of feelings, concern, and very frequent, joyful sharing that a first born creates in new parents' lives. It has been a wonderful reminder of my own early moments as a new parent. We all know parents are an important part of childhood development and growth. It does not matter whether those parents are biological, foster or adoptive. Did you know there is a constant need for more foster parents in the County? Have you ever considered becoming a foster parent?

When children enter foster care, their worlds are often turned upside-down through no fault of their own. To lessen the trauma, it's especially important to keep siblings together, and to find foster homes that are close to their friends, schools, and activities so they can maintain as much normalcy as possible. Currently, there are more than 200 kids in foster care in Fairfax County. The Department of Family Services' Foster Care and Adoption program offers temporary foster homes for these children and services to help their families. Right now, the greatest need is for foster families willing and able to take in large sibling groups, unaccompanied minors, teens and medically fragile children. There is also a need for families who speak Spanish. To learn more about becoming a foster parent and the resources available, come to a monthly information meeting or call 703-324-7639 or TTY 703-222-9452. Get more details.

Throughout June, many different activities take place across the County and in the Mount Vernon District. On Saturday, June 15 at 10 a.m. we will celebrate the completion of the Huntington Levee Project. Please join us for this long-awaited community celebration! The Mount Vernon Nights FREE Summer Concert Series kicks off this Friday night at Grist Mill Park and Saturday night at the Workhouse Arts Center. Chairman Bulova will host a Disability Inclusion Conference on Saturday, June 29 from 8:30 a.m. – 12:30 p.m. at the Fairfax County Government Center.

Next week, I hope you will take time to vote in the Democratic primary election on Tuesday, June 11 at your local voting precinct. All registered voters are encouraged to vote in this important election for the next Fairfax County Board Chair. Read more about June activities and events below!

NVSWCD Residential Technical Assistance

It isn't surprising that the record-breaking rainfall that fell across our area led to a record-breaking number of requests from County residents and communities to the Northern Virginia Soil and Water Conservation District

(NVSWCD) for technical assistance. In March 2019 alone, NVSWCD had 85 requests for technical assistance – almost four per business day. A large percentage of these calls or emails began with an immediately ask for a site visit. While NVSWCD would like to be able to accommodate each and every request for a site visit, the high demand is overwhelming available staff resources. Currently, the wait is approximately 10 weeks before a team member can visit a property. As a result, NVSWCD is piloting a “Conservation Specialist of the Day” (CSOD). If you have a question or concern, the best place to start is with the many resources available on the agency's website. If you do not find what you are looking for on this website, then email NVSWCD with your address, description of concerns, and attach clear photos or videos of issues. This will get your issue into the NVSWCD database and allow for better assessment and diagnosis of the issue.
